New York Offshore Wind Technical and Training Workshop

An opportunity for local businesses, training providers, labor organizations, and educators

Connect with offshore wind developers, component manufacturers, and service suppliers to identify the technology and training needs of Sunrise Wind, Empire Wind, and future offshore wind projects in the region.

This workshop will also set the stage for New York's $20 million Offshore Wind Training Institute, which will provide benefits to workers across New York State through new job training programs, tailored college curriculum, and enhanced academic research opportunities.
